

Top 25 Influencers in Security You Should Be Following

by DAVID SPAIN — DECEMBER 8, 2011

At Tiptoe we spend a lot of time trying to stay in tune with the security industry's top influencers. In our effort to compile a list of people we thought were valuable to follow primarily on Twitter and on our other blogs, we thought we'd share the list with our readers. For each person we selected, we gave our reasons as to why we thought these people were valuable contributors to the security industry, plus we asked each one to offer their security go for the New Year. I feel free to follow each individually, or if you like, we've created a Twitter list so you can easily follow all 25.

Agree with us? Disagree with us? I'm sure you've got a Twitter list of your own. Who should be on this list that we didn't even consider?
